ROBOT Rain Walkers

Nobody could accuse the ROBOTs of being fine-weather walkers.

Nine stalwarts braved the elements for a great walk around Colaton Raleigh recently.

In fact, the rain only interfered at the beginning whilst the group were putting on the waterproofs in anticipation of worse to come – but it didn't come and it was a great walk.

There was a little "walking on water" at the beginning but it's surprising how many achieved this!

Anyway, the walk ended up with the most splendid cream tea kindly provided by Gordon's sister and wonderfully served by Gordon's wife, Jenny.

All in all, a good turnout and a fun walk. Hopefully, more to follow.
